A short time ago a very respectable colored man either jumped or fell from a Baltimore and Ohio incoming train near Muirkirk Staan other jumped or fell from a Baltimore and Ohie incuming train near Markirk Station. He was picked up in an apparently dying condition. With one or two gontiemen on the train I assisted the train officers in caring for him. On arriving in Washington Mr.—, agent, kindly precured a hack, in which, with Officer Scott and one of the gontiemen mentioned, we conveyed the man to Providence Hospital. After considerable waiting and effort to rouse the attendants of the hospital and procure a stretcher, with aid in getting the suffering man into the building, we were informed that there was no stretcher and no one to aid. Officer Scott and one to ake him bodily and carry him up the long flight of Sences steps that mount the high terrace and into the institution. I did this at immense risk of injury. Into myself because of previous physical injuries. But I did not propose to see him lie on the pavement in a heavy rain-storm and suffer. After getting in that man was carried by Officer Scott and the young gentlemen into one of the highest stories.

I proposed to give the name of the man and address of his friends to one of the two sisters who alone met us at the hall, that they might give information of his whereafounts and condition, hen I was informed that "they did not care for this; the railroad attended to those matters." I insisted on leaving the direction, however; going into the right parlor I found paper, wrote thou down, and handed it to the sister. Now, what struck ne as strange was (1) the impossibility of getting the aid of stretcher and attendants: (2) the utter destitution of interest in any features of the case of a poor, suffering, apparently dying colored man; (3) the utter alsence of the apparently indispensable elevator for conveyance of those unable to ascend the long flights of steps leading to the different stories.

To the Editor of the Noticeal Expeditions;
Perhaps few people outside of those who have nade the weather a special study realize why Rev. H. M. Collisson Called to the Church of the Redsemor. Rev. Edward Wilson, D. D., rector of the Church of the Redsemer (R. E.), having been we should have these "heated terms," and why the past winter should have been so warm, and now why these summer months should be so hot, and yet it is as easy to understand as that water will seek the lowest level or that air obliged, owing to continued ill health, to tenobliged, owing to continued ill health, to ten-der his resignation, the vestry have extended a manimous call to Rev. H. M. Collisson, late of Ottawa, Canada, who has been officiating mest acceptably in the absence of Rev. Dr. Wilson for some time past. Mr. Collisson, like Dr. Wilson, is an Englishman by birth, and comes of an old Church-of-England family, his youd controversy that the wind will be toward the centre of low barometer. Now, if the rethe centre of low hardwater. Now, it the yield of the given of low hardwater is in a high latitude, it naturally follows that to the south of that point the wind will be from the warm regions comes of an old Church-of-England family, his father, the late Rev. M. A. Collisson, M. A., vicar of Highbury, London, having been an eminent elergyman of the Evangelical or Low-Church school. On cenning to this country in 1sis, the prevalence of high-church doctrines here led Mr. Collisson to refuse to join the Protestant Episcopal Church, and he united with the Prosbyterians, and after graduating at the Theological Seminary in Chicago, he became pastor of one of the oldest and largest Presbyterian churches in Northern Illinois, Shority after the formation of the Reformed Episcopal Church he joined it, and at once became nector of Enmanuel Church of Ottawa, the emitted of Church. After a very successful of the south; while if the area of low harom-eter is in a low latitude, that the wind to the north of that point will be from the north, and therefore coid. north of that point will be from the north, and therefore coid.

Puring the past winter low barometer followed in a higher line of latitude than usual, causing over much of the country warm south winds, therefore we had little protracted cold weather, and we had what is commonly understood as an "open winter." This situator we have had repeatedly a low harometer contra along a line of high latitude, causing to the south of it southouty and therefore warm winds. Low barometer has started in the northwest, in the neighborhood of Montana and Paskota, and traveled its usual course cast along on the line of 45° north, and to the north orths, any from 45° to 47° and 48°, while high barometer has remained unesty along the Middle and Southern States. Hence the southerfy winds which heat and dry have tended more especially inland than along the seaboard.

It is rather neculiar that low barometer ame rector of Emmanuel Church of Ottawa, he explict of Canada. After a very successful sastomate there of three years, building up a arge and influential congruention, and paying iff a heavy debt, he resigned in May last, and heclining a unanimous call from the church in Montreal on account of his desire to return to Montreal on account of the line was come to cast in the United States, he has now come to cast in his lot among us. He preaches Sunday morn-ing and evening at Marini's Hall, and is now helivering a series of sermons on the life of is sended more especially inland than along the senboard.

It is rather peculiar that low barometer should have repeated itself now so many times in succession and has going generally over the same ground with solittle variation. Yet there is no accounting for its whims: with a matural phenomena. We will have a change only when low barometer gets upon another course, and I loop it will not be long ere it will get out on the ocean or up in the extreme northeast; then, and not till then, will we have those pleasant summer breezes from the west and southwest which are so agreeable at this scason of the year. for Damages. BASK-BALL.

The National Defeat the New Bedford After a Hard Struggle. The National scored a victory over the New edford yesterday afternoon, ten innings be-Bedford yesterday afternoon, ten innings be-ing necessary to decide the game, the figures being four to three. When the New Bodford came upon the field it was noticed that Brad-ley was absent. Inquiry showed that he had been prostrated by the heat yesterday morning and would not take part in the game.

Mutrie pitched in "Brad's" place, and Hough, of the Eagle'of this city, helped the "Blues" considerably, his playing at centre being firstclass. The contest was a model one in fielding, as the score at the end of the ninth ing, as the score at the cad of the initial inining was one to oue. The first two artikers of the visitors were retired in the tenth inning, but Gore, instead of getting out, sent a sky-scraper over "Rarron" at right field, on which he made a circuit of the bases. Stovey which he made a circuit of the bases. Storey also made a run on errors, and when the "Reds" came to the bat for their turn things "Reds" came to the bat for their turn things were queer, a score of three to one having to be overcome. Trott was sent to first on called balls. Reville advanced him to second on a clean hit to right, but the climax was resched when Kenney sent a "balloon" sailing over Hough at centre, on which both men tallied easily. By bat throwing "Jim" also scored, and the home toam were pulsel out of a tight place. As this run won the game time was called, although no one was out on the National side. The scene at the close of the game beggars description. The vast antience rushed upon the field and hugged and hauled the victors to the club-house, congratulating them upon the glod and hugged and hauled the victors to the club-house, congratulating them upon the glodious "win." Thus, after two of the prettiest games ever witnessed in Washington, the ball stays here, and another feather files in the National cap.

The following summary tells the story:

NATIONAL.

The National and New Bedford will have another bat encounter to-morrow afternoon at four o'clock, and a rare treat is in store for all fortunate enough to attend. The visitors any they will win this game sure, but "base-ball is very uncertain."

The Maninatian and Keystone, the leading colored clubs of the District, play this afternoon on the National grounds, at five o'clock. The last contest between these "tossers" was very exciting, and to-day's game will be a good one.

Auful Mortality.

Some startling facts were learned at the office of the board of health concerning the terrible effects of the sun during the past few days. Dr. Jamieson, the gentlemanly clerk of the board, stated to an Erening Past reporter this morning that the first case of sunstroke reported was that of Adam Thoraberger, and the burial permit for the interment of his body was entered on the books on the 13th instant was entered on the books on the 13th Instant. Two other burial permits were issued the same day in cases where the parties died from the effects of the heat. On Friday, the 12th, the number was 13; on Saturday, the 13th, 14. Yesterday there were 12.

This morning the burial permits in cases where the parties died from the direct effects of heat were 14. This makes the number of herait were 14. This takes the number of herait permits in cases of death from the direct effects of the heat in the last three days, including this morning up to twelve, 53. The total number of registered burial permits in that time was 167.

total number of registered burial permits in that time was 167.

If, as the officials of the floard of Health say, one-half of the deaths in the city, and probably more at this time, are children under five years of age, this leaves a total of eighty-two deaths of persons over five in that time, as against fifty-dive who did from anatureke. In other words, of the total number of deaths among adults in the past three days, more than sixty-six per cent, have been the result of the heat.—St. Lawis Evening Past of Monday.

GEORGETOWN PARAGRAPHS.

Yesterday, at cleven o'clock, the thermometer stood 12? in the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank. At the same hour it stood 94° in the office of the Borden Coal and Mining Conjany, one of the coolest places in Georgetown, and in the ticket-office of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company it stood 92°. In the afternoon it stood 96° in the jewelry establishment of Mr. H. G. Wagner, on Bridge street.

Mrs. Mary A. Sullivan, aged eighty years, one of the oldest residents of Georgetown, died at an early hour yesterday at her residence, corner of Lingan and First streets, of senile debitity. Her funeral will take place this morning from Trinity (Catholie) Church, where requirem mass will be celebrated.

The condition of Mr. Edward Fowler, who had his right leg fractured Mondey on Severall, near Frederick street, by a stone thrown by some colored boys, is not much improved, and his friends still entertain fears that his limb will have to be amputated.

Explanation in Regard to Dr. Antisell. To the Editor of the National Republican.

Sin: The statement in your issue of to-day that Dr. Autisell "refused to go" to the assistance of Joseph Crandall, who was sunstricken neaof Joseph Craudall, who was sunstricken near the Patent-Office yesterday, saying, "Let him be taken to a drug-store," does that gentleman a gross injustice. The messenger who was sent for Dr. Antisell, mistaking me for that gentleman, asked me to attend Crandall, to whom I went, finding him in the compotent hands of Professor Howard. Dr. Antisell did not know that he had been called until I sent him word, and at this time there was no need for his services, as Professor Howard had charge of the case.

I respectfully ask that you will give this denial as prominent a place in your paper as the paragraph inadvertently doing this worthy goutleman an injury. J. B. LITTLEWOOD, M. D.

Grand Army Execution to Getty-burg. The attention of the comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic and others is called to the special notice in another column. It is absolutely necessary that the number going hall be known, that the adjutant-general can elegraph over for accommodations and subtoligraph over for accommodations and sub-sistence. Those having tickets should also re-port this evening the number of tickets sold. The indications are that a large number will be taken over.
